Dear Allen,

*"Finally have managed to put 2003
into the past"*

Hard to believe that it has already been seven months since you obtained my release. Time is a great healer and as each day passes by, the recollections of my, "Nightmare in Hell", slowly becomes a distant memory.

We just recently returned from a three-week visit with our Son who lives in Philadelphia, and are happy to report that there were no problems at the border. This, for me, was a huge step in being able to move on with my life, as we are still able to visit with our Grand Children in the United States.

Words cannot describe my gratitude for the outstanding case you presented in defense of my innocence. It is said that, "We make a living by what we get, but we make a life by what we give". You have given me the most valuable gift known to man, "MY FREEDOM".

Sincerely,

A large black rectangular redaction box covering the signature of the sender.
